DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
  - I. Claims 1-6, drawn to a method for treating post-surgical pain comprising administering an antagonist of nerve growth factor (NGF) other than trkA immunoadhesin, classified in class 424, subclass 145.1, for example.
  - II. Claims 7-8, drawn to a kit for treating post-surgical pain comprising an NGF antagonist other than trkA immunoadhesin, classified in class 530, subclass 388.1, for example.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

2. Inventions I and II are related as product and process of use. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product. See MPEP § 806.05(h). In the instant case the antagonist of nerve growth factor (NGF) of Invention II can be used in the method of treatment of Invention I, but the antagonist can also be used in assay methods, which is a materially different method.

Art Unit: 1647

Election of Species:

3. Claims 1 and 7 are generic to the following disclosed patentably distinct species of NGF antagonists:

- (1) anti-NGF antibody
- (2) anti-sense molecule directed to a nucleic acid encoding NGF
- (3) antisense molecule directed to a nucleic acid encoding trkA
- (4) antisense molecule directed to a nucleic acid encoding p75
- (5) an NGF inhibitory compound
- (6) an NGF structural analog
- (7) a dominant-negative mutation of a trkA receptor that binds an NGF
- (8) a dominant-negative mutation of a p75 receptor that binds an NGF
- (9) anti-trkA antibody
- (10) anti-p75 antibody
- (11) kinase inhibitor

The species are independent or distinct because each antagonist represents a physically and functionally distinct chemical entity, having different structures and activities, and each would require separate non-overlapping searches. Furthermore, searching more than one of the 11 different inventions would impose a serious search burden since a search of one of the antagonists would not be used to determine the patentability of any of the other antagonists, and vice-versa. Accordingly, the methods of using the compounds are also, therefore, patentably distinct. Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species, even though this requirement is traversed. Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Art Unit: 1647

4. Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of an allowable generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

5. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above, have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, and the search required for each group is not required for the other groups because each group requires a different non-patent literature searches, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

6. The Examiner has required restriction between product and method claims. Where applicant elects claims directed to the product, and a product claim is subsequently found allowable, withdrawn method claims that depend from or otherwise include all the limitations of the allowable product claim will be rejoined in accordance with the provisions of MPEP § 821.04. Method claims that depend from or otherwise include all the limitations of the patentable product will be entered as a matter of right if the amendment is presented prior to final rejection or allowance, whichever is earlier. Amendments submitted after final rejection are governed by 37 CFR 1.116; amendments submitted after allowance are governed by 37 CFR 1.312.

7. In the event of rejoinder, the requirement for restriction between the product claims and the rejoined method claims will be withdrawn, and the rejoined method claims will be fully examined for patentability in accordance with 37 CFR 1.104. Thus, to be allowable, the rejoined claims must meet all criteria for patentability including the requirements of 35 U.S.C. 101, 102,

Art Unit: 1647

103, and 112. Until an elected product claim is found allowable, an otherwise proper restriction requirement between product claims and method claims may be maintained. Withdrawn method claims that are not commensurate in scope with an allowed product claim will not be rejoined. See “Guidance on Treatment of Product and Process Claims in light of In re Ochiai, In re Brouwer and 35 U.S.C. § 103(b),” 1184 O.G. 86 (March 26, 1996). Additionally, in order to retain the right to rejoinder in accordance with the above policy, Applicant is advised that the method claims should be amended during prosecution either to maintain dependency on the method claims or to otherwise include the limitations of the product claims. Failure to do so may result in a loss of the right to rejoinder.

8. Further, note that the prohibition against double patenting rejections of 35 U.S.C. 121 does not apply where the restriction requirement is withdrawn by the Examiner before the patent issues. See MPEP § 804.01.

9. Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

10. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
